A: I am using the boot.img to restore Windows but I just used WinFlash to upgrade it. Use this method instead of WinFlash for those who don't have the cable. Download the boot.img here Download WinFlash (By default it will be WinFlash_3.12.1.exe) Open the exe and press Shift+F10 to open the command window to enter the Windows command prompt. Change to the directory where you downloaded WinFlash. You should be in the directory of the boot.img file now. Run the.exe file to upgrade the boot.img file. "We chose the angels for that reason, because we like the definition of an angel, in the dictionary, is an unselfish, kind, loving, and trustworthy person. We thought that was a perfect fit, and the whole thing is, is love to a whole bunch of other people." Andrea Wachter made the silver angel in the best possible way, with loving hands. She used silver wires to make the halo shape for the face, making a "sleek, modern look" in the image. "I wanted to make it beautiful. But I wanted it to be real, so I had to make it really good." Andrea says she has been doing nails for seven years, and she's learned a lot. "But I still do it a lot of stuff, because it's fun, and I do it as a hobby. It's mostly me doing it, and doing it with my kids." This is the second year her husband John has partnered with her on art projects. "This year, he's helping me with doing these silver angels. It's been really fun to have him around, and he's been helping me make different designs, and trying to make them look more realistic, so we do them in the more traditional way, but we do it with modern ideas. This year, the angels had to be for a good cause. So we did it for Saving the Bees." Andrea's husband John works in the environmental field, and has been a member of the Sierra Club since 2d92ce491b
